

Introductory Words

No other country has used Input-Output Analysis as systematically, and because of that as successfully, as Japan. Thus, it is natural that the first economic journal specifically devoted to practical application of that approach now appears in Japan. The fact that it is being published in English will facilitate the exchange of ideas on further development of that methodology and description on its specific application in all parts of the World.

Wassily Leontief

Wassily W. Leontief
Honorary President
Pan Pacific Association
of Input-Output Studies